3. Chancellor’s Report: Steven Rosenstone
Chancellor Rosenstone reported on the following topics.

Chancellor Rosenstone described the final higher education bill adopted by the House and Senate and forwarded to Governor Dayton for consideration. The final bill provides $100 million in new funding for Minnesota State College and Universities, representing 60% of the conference committee’s target of $166 million in new money. The chancellor thanked Governor Dayton, Representative Bud Nornes, Senator Terri Bonoff, and the legislators who shared our goals of protecting the affordability and access to quality higher education for all Minnesotans. He also thanked all those who stood behind the board’s funding proposal.

Chancellor Rosenstone thanked Trustees Anaya, Anderson Kelliher, Benson, Charpentier-Berg, Cowles, Erlandson, Hoffman, Krinkie, Sundin, and Vekich for their participation in five leadership searches this year.

Chancellor Rosenstone announced that the scholarship campaign has been a great success and has helped our colleges and universities keep higher education affordable. In July 2013, we set out to raise $20 million over two years to award 20,000 scholarships to our students. During the first 21 months of the 24-month campaign, our 42 foundations have raised $34 million – $14 million ahead of our goal. Chancellor Rosenstone thanked the donors for their generosity and for their outstanding work. He also thanked the presidents, foundation leaders, their boards and staff, and the hundreds of volunteers.

Chancellor Rosenstone thanked the trustees and members of the cabinet for participating in this spring’s commencements. He noted that he gave the commencement address at Pine Technical and Community College.

Chancellor Rosenstone thanked the faculty and staff who are completing their service at the end of this academic year for their dedication to students and the colleges and universities.
